“ I first met Mr. Bowdre when I started working at the courthouse many years ago, and he worked at the juvenile probation office. He loved to tell me the story about working with my parents at a nursery many years before then. He would tell me that I was only about this tall (he would motion with his hand almost right above his knee). I loved to hear that story because it kept me feeling like a kid! He was always very professional, and just a good person. After he retired, I didn't see much of him except when he would stop by the courthouse to pay his insurance. He would come by the office to say hello. I enjoyed catching up on what he was up to, and what my family was up to. His smile will be missed around here, but I know he smiling down on us. Rest in peace Mr. Bowdre.
