“ I could write a book about Mrs. Donita. From the first moment we interacted with each other was phenomenal and she was like a Mother to me. From doing numerous church events together, to her playing a character in a play that I wrote with her in mind, to the numerous times I came to her home...but the most memorable moment we shared was a conversation we had and I told her how I watched her as a young man raise her kids alone, and I never once seen a man in and out her home was by far the best! She was so stunned that I paid that much attention. A single mother who did it without anyone but the Lord and faith, put 3 kids not only through High School, but also college!!!! The last time I seen her it took a bit for her to remember me and that crushed my heart but we shared a few good laughs and that moment will forever live in my heart.
