“ Traditionally, a librarian is associated with collections of books, as demonstrated by the etymology of the word. That being said, Mr. Frank Frances was the librarian extraordinaire at Prairie View A&M University. I know firsthand because I used his astute knowledge of Prairie View's library to complete the plethora of research based projects assigned by both the late Dr. Frankie Ledbetter and the late Dr. William Chapman. There were no computers, no websites, and very little technology at the time. But thank God there was Mr. Francis who knew the card catalog and the library order as an artist knows his craft. I also personally thank Mr. Frances for his gift of photography which provided the most eloquent pictures of my first wedding. In our close knit community Mr. Frances was a strong thread in our proverbial Kente cloth known as Prairie View, Texas. His investment into our lives will never be forgotten. Frankie and Jennifer, we love you!

To Mr. Frances, I share with you as HORATIO shared with Hamlet upon his transition from Earth to Glory:

“-Now cracks a noble heart. Good night, Sweet Prince, and flights of angels sing thee to thy rest!-“

“ Thoughts and prayers are with the Francis Family. Sorry to hear of his passing. Mr. Francis was an amazing man and I remember him from Wiley College when I attended there 1989-1993. He was so supportive of all the students and faculty. He always complimented me as Miss Wiley College. Stay prayerful and faithful. God is with each of each step of the way.

“ My deepest condolences to the family of Mr. Frank Francis, Jr. I have many fond memories of Mr. Francis, one dynamic, trustworthy and personable man. Mr. Francis was my first boss (indirectly) while I was a student assistant worker in the W. R. Banks Library from September 9 - December 19, 1973. I enjoyed working with Mr. Francis and the staff of the Library. I often visited his office just to learn something new about the library field and about his love for family and the students at Prairie View A&M University. When I told him I was leaving the library for a position in the President's Office he was shocked and saddened because he was about to honor my request for a transfer to another department in the Library. He said, "Just like Dr. Thomas, he's always taking the best for his office!" We laughed and still remained friends even after he left PVAMU. To the family, cherish the fond memories of Mr. Francis, a man of great integrity and respect. Be of great courage and know that God wanted the best for his kingdom too!
